RELEVANT CREATIVE SKILLS

ABOUT ME

I believe that design is a superpower and I'm passionate about using my skills to tackle some of the largest and toughest problems in the world.

As a logical thinker, my approach to design tends to begin at the end with research and setting clear goals to benchmark success. I then explore all avenues and creative options to find the best solution to the problem.

My key strength is balance. While I work well as a supportive team member, I also enjoy leading. I balance attention to detail with big-picture thinking and I seek constructive criticism constantly.
